THE ART HISTORY UNDERGRADUATE ASSOCIATION PRESENTS

Under the Scope APRIL 11 - 14

*The Art History Undergraduate Association, inspired by artists who use art to magnify aspects of inward and outward reality, set the theme Under the Scope, asking artists to explore ways of perception and deception.

Some artworks respond to the theme directly while others have taken a metaphorical approach in their manifestation of the artists' message. Put in dialogue with one another, these works create a spectrum of interpretation that speaks to each viewer's unique reality. When we consider what is gained and lost in the act of looking, new ideas and perspectives are born.

Our Mission

The mission of the Art History Undergraduate Association is to encourage undergraduates in shared interest and passion for art by connecting them to a network of faculty, alumni and students. We seek to create art-filled environments that are both engaging and relevant. A main objective for this year is to organize events throughout the academic year that will grant opportunities for students to interact with faculty on a more meaningful level. We provide access to viewings and discussions concerning art by providing a peer group and organizing visits to museums and exhibitions.
