

You are welcome to attend a staged reading followed by Q&A with cast & crew of:

POOR YELLA REDNECKS

In the award-winning Vietgone, Qui Nguyen recounted his parents' hot and hilarious courtship in a Vietnamese refugee camp in 1975. Now, six years later, Tong and Quang are building new lives in a foreign land called Arkansas. But marriage is hard – especially when she's having doubts and his first one isn't over yet. One family's history makes for a raucously funny, deeply moving take on the immigrant story, told with hip-hop style.

WORLD PREMIERE OF PLAY AT SOUTH COAST REPERTORY THEATRE
MARCH 30 - APRIL 27, 2019

PARTICIPANTS:

Playwright Qui Nguyen,
Director May Adrales, and actors
Paco Tolson, Samantha Quan, Tim Chiou, and Eugene Young along with Kimberly Colburn, Literary Director, and Andy Knight, Associate Literary Director of South Coast Repertory Theater.

THURSDAY, FEB. 28, 2019

ENGINEERING LECTURE

HALL 100

12:30 - 1:50 PM

UC IRVINE

Held in Professor Linda Vo's Asian American Communities class

Free and open to the public.

For further info: volt@uci.edu

Sponsored by UCI Illuminations: The Chancellor's Arts & Culture Initiative, Department of Asian American Studies, Viet Stories: Vietnamese American Oral History Project, and UCI Libraries Orange County & Southeast Asian Archive Center.