

The MFA Programs in Writing presents

A Reading by Poet

F. DOUGLAS BROWN

Wednesday
May 2, 2018
6:00 p.m.

Humanities Instructional Building 135

FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

F. DOUGLAS BROWN is the author of Icon (Writ Large Press 2018), and Zero to Three (University of Georgia Press 2014), winner of the 2013 Cave Canem Prize. He also co-authored with poet Geoffrey Davis, Begotten (Upper Rubber Boot Books 2016), a chapbook of poetry published as part of URB's Floodgate series. Brown, an educator for over 20 years, teaches English at Loyola High School of Los Angeles, an all-boys Jesuit school, and holds fellowships from Cave Canem and Kundiman. He is the co-founder and curator of un::fade::able, a quarterly poetry reading series which honors the legacy of Sandra Bland while examining restorative justice, and ways to address racism through poetry.

For more information, contact Sandra Mueller at slmuelle@uci.edu