

The Department of Gender & Sexuality Studies presents:

DEAN SPADE

Normal Life: Administrative Violence,
Critical Trans Politics, and the Limits of Law

An Author-Meets-Readers Event

Dean Spade is a lawyer, writer, and associate professor at Seattle University School of Law. Prior to joining the faculty of Seattle University, Dean was a Williams Institute Law Teaching Fellow at UCLA Law School and Harvard Law School. In 2002, Dean founded the Sylvia Rivera Law Project, a non-profit law collective that provides free legal services to transgender, intersex and gender non-conforming people who are low-income and/or people of color.

February 5, 2016
10:15 a.m. - 11:30 a.m.

Humanities Gateway 3341
refreshments provided
Space is limited!
RSVP at: ethuma@uci.edu