

PLEASE JOIN US

The Rise of Islamophobia Studies in the Trump Era

NAZIA KAZI

Assistant Professor of Anthropology
Stockton University

DATE: MONDAY, APRIL 16TH

TIME: 4:00PM

LOCATION: HIB 135

Nazia Kazi is Assistant Professor of Anthropology at Stockton University in New Jersey. Her talk, The Rise of Islamophobia Studies in the Trump Era, traces the bipartisan history of US xenophobia and racialized foreign policy practices, allowing a nuanced understanding of the nature of contemporary anti-Muslim racism in the US.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

UCHRI

HUMANITIES RESEARCH INSTITUTE

Sponsored by:

UCI Department of Gender & Sexuality Studies

University of California Office of the President Multi-campus Research Programs and Initiative Funding

UC Humanities Research Institute