

UCI Center for Medical Humanities

Dear colleagues,

You are cordially invited to join us for the official launch of the UCI Center for Medical Humanities, an unprecedented partnership between the UCI Claire Trevor School of Arts, School of Humanities, and School of Medicine. Director Doug Haynes will preside over the event and preview upcoming programs and events. Deans Stephen Barker (CTSA), Tyrus Miller (SOH), and Michael J. Stamos (SOM) will also make brief remarks about their school's involvement in the center.

UCI Center for Medical Humanities Launch Event

October 30th, 2018 | 5:30-7:30 p.m.

Humanities Gateway (HG) 1030

University of California, Irvine campus

The 200th anniversary of Mary Shelley's Frankenstein will provide the backdrop for this unique event. Richard Brestoff (UCI Drama) will perform a dramatic reading of selections from the novel and Jayne Lewis (UCI English) will provide insights into the novel and its relationship to the Medical Humanities in the 21st century.

Light refreshments will be served.
This event is free and open to the public, but registration is encouraged.

RSVP

Parking: Please park in the Mesa Parking Structure (see grid C7 on the campus map)
Parking is $2/hour or $10/day.

About the UCI Center for Medical Humanities

Formerly the UCI Medical Humanities Initiative, the UCI Center for Medical Humanities serves as a vibrant space for exploring the meanings of health, healing, and well-being. Above all, this vision of the medical humanities fortifies a model of health care that is organized around the individual, reflective of cultural identities, and responsive to the needs of community.

UCI Center for Medical Humanities