

wonder philosophy:

workshop on discovering entrance requirements in philosophy

Are you a first-generation college student thinking about applying to a philosophy graduate program? Would you like more information about the process? This 2-day online workshop provides information and guidance about philosophy graduate school applications to students from disadvantaged backgrounds who may have difficulty acquiring this information otherwise.

We will discuss:

- 1) how to decide whether you really want to apply;
- 2) where you should apply;
- 3) how you should put together an application; and
- 4) how you can compare programs once you're accepted.

Who: first-generation* college and MA students attending a college/university in Southern California or Hawaii looking for guidance in applying to philosophy graduate programs

When: September 26-27th, online

Deadline to apply: September 18th, by 5pm PST

Where to apply: bit.ly/applytowonder2020

<https://wonderphilosophy.com/> | wonder.philos@gmail.com

*Not sure if you're first-generation? Check our application instructions (<https://wonderphilosophy.com/application/>).