

CHINA: BEYOND THE STEREOTYPES

Despite how entwined China and the U.S. have become economically and in so many other ways, the big continent-sized country across the Pacific can still confuse and confound Americans. Join us in a conversation with authors working in varied genres who strive in their work to get beyond the stereotypes and fantasies that obscure American views of China—and, for that matter, Chinese views of the United States as well.

WEDNESDAY

OCTOBER 19, 2016

5:45 p.m. - 7:00 p.m.

Humanities Gateway 1030
University of California, Irvine

Visitor parking is available in Mesa Parking Structure for $10.00

For directions, visit:
<https://uci.edu/visit/maps.php>

FEATURING

Jeffrey N. Wasserstrom
Chancellor's Professor of History
University of California, Irvine

Lisa See
New York Times best-selling author of China Dolls

Yunte Huang
Translator of poetry and author of an Edgar Award-winning biography of Charlie Chan

Judy Tzu-Chun Wu
Professor & Chair
Asian American Studies
University of California, Irvine

PLEASE RSVP AT <http://bit.ly/UCI-China> BY OCTOBER 7th