

AC ENG 22A: Reading & Vocabulary

SUMMER SESSION 1 (June 21-July 26, 2021)

This course aims to prepare students to effectively read different types of academic texts that they are likely to encounter in the university setting while also gaining familiarity with the use of English as a global language. Students will be encouraged to discuss the purposes for reading a particular text, develop genre awareness, and gain practice applying, monitoring, and reflecting on their reading strategies. Students will also be encouraged to actively expand and deepen their knowledge of English vocabulary.
